The Operating Playbook

How the business is built, priced, and run — the model, the plans, the gemstone line, the rules we never break, and the tools we use. One reference for the whole team.

✦ KEEP INTERNAL — DO NOT CIRCULATE

A complete operating reference for an online astrology consulting business serving the United States, United Kingdom and Canada. Prices shown are working figures, set to be adjusted as the business grows.

What this business is

A premium online astrology consulting business. Real people get a real reading from a qualified astrologer — by video, by phone, or as a written and recorded report — and can stay with us through monthly plans and a matched, certified gemstone. We serve the US, UK and Canada in one brand.

The value is the knowledge and the study of the subject, not any single person's fame. Readings are delivered by qualified astrologers; educational content is delivered by presenters. The business owns the method, the brand and the client relationships — so it never depends on one face and can grow to many astrologers, many presenters, and many languages.

Why we win where others get shut down: every company destroyed in this field died the same way — a fake "free" offer, a promised outcome, or a billing trick. We simply never do those three things. That single discipline is our biggest advantage and it costs us nothing.

The eight stages, in order

#	Stage	When	What happens
1	The website	Weeks 1–4	One brand, three country front doors (US/UK/CA). Free entry tools, booking, rules pages, consent built in.
2	The machinery	Weeks 3–6	Booking that takes payment on booking, auto time-zones, recorded calls, shared inbox, two card processors.
3	First clients — free	Weeks 6–10	Warm outreach + referrals + first reviews. First 15–25 sales with zero ad spend.
4	The content engine	Week 8 on	Educational videos on universal, emotionally-charged questions. Knowledge-led, presenter-delivered.
5	Paid ads	Month 3+	Small and surgical, only after the Day-90 checkpoint. Buy intent, not curiosity.
6	Monthly plans + Founders	Months 3–6	Three membership tiers + a 150-seat lifetime founder offer with a fair-use policy.
7	The Prescribed Stone	Months 6–12	Chart-matched, certified, registered gemstones with a built-in follow-up reading. Our signature product.
8	More astrologers	Month 9–12+	The step that turns one calendar into a company. Vetted, trained, paid per reading.

Two hard checkpoints. Day 90: we only scale if it costs under 40% of a sale to win a client, 1 in 4 clients return within 60 days, refunds stay under 5%, and 10 real reviews are live. The old ceiling: one person doing only live calls maxes near $26,000/month — which is exactly why we don't build that way. Async reports, content, memberships, gemstones and extra astrologers all break past it.

Reading prices

Whole, round numbers — never prices ending in .99 or 9. In this field, round numbers read as a professional fee; charm prices read as a discount store and quietly cheapen a premium astrologer. These figures are a starting point, set to rise as reputation builds.

Reading	Length	Price	What's included
Insight	30 min	$95	One focus question. Live video, plus the recording.
Full Reading ★ most booked	60 min	$195	Three life areas. Live video + recording + a short written summary.
Deep Dive	90 min	$325	Full chart + a 12-month outlook. Live + recording + written summary + one follow-up question.

Positioning note: the competitor field is jammed at $300–$360, and the best-known independents are booked months out — a clear sign they are underpriced. As reviews build, Full Reading can move to $225 and Deep Dive to $375–$400. UK shown in GBP, Canada in CAD, at the equivalent local level — never a currency conversion at checkout.

The middle tier is designed to win. Three real choices are always shown together. The 60-minute Full Reading is the best value-per-minute and looks it, so most people land there. We never show a single lonely price — a price with nothing to compare against is compared only to zero.

Monthly plans

Opened only after we've served roughly 100 clients — plans keep trust, they can't create it. All whole numbers.

Plan	Monthly	6 months	1 year	What the member gets
Monthly Guidance	$20	$110	$200	A personal written forecast every month from their own chart, plus one question a month by message.
Quarterly ★ push this	$80	$440	$800	Everything above, plus one 45-minute live session every 3 months, priority booking, and 10% off extra readings.
Inner Circle · cap ~40 people	$200	$1,100	$2,000	A 45-minute live session every month, plus voice-note questions between sessions.

The yearly price is simply the annual cost — we do not cross out a fake "was" price. Inner Circle is capped because each seat eats real calendar time; seats are treated like limited stock.

Founders' Circle (one-time, lifetime) + Fair Usage Policy

The deal: 150 seats, $1,000 once, kept for life. Sold in two honest waves (50 then 100) with a real, visible counter. About $150,000 of launch capital that funds the gemstone line and the second astrologer — with no extra share of the company given away.

Each founder gets: lifetime Monthly-Guidance content · 3 live 45-minute sessions (to use within 24 months) · a permanent 20% off all readings and store purchases · founder status and first access to everything new.

Fair Usage Policy — so nobody abuses it

- Fixed sessions, not unlimited: 3 sessions inside 24 months. They cannot be stockpiled, carried on forever, or claimed all at once.
- Reasonable-use limit on monthly questions — one per month, not a flood.
- Personal use only. One person, one account. No sharing, reselling, or gifting the seat or the sessions.
- Booking with fair notice, subject to normal availability — no last-minute demands.
- Format may evolve: we may change how the lifetime content is delivered over time, so we're never locked to one method forever.
- Abuse ends access: reselling, fraud or repeated breaches can revoke the lifetime access.

The Prescribed Stone

Every other seller treats a gemstone as a product on a shelf. We make it the physical anchor of a relationship. This is our unique selling point and our moat.

How it works, end to end:

- Matched to the chart. The stone is chosen for the client's actual birth chart inside a paid reading — never sold cold.
- Independently certified. Every stone ships with a third-party lab certificate proving it is genuine and untreated.
- Registered to the client. Each stone gets a unique ID and a printed certificate tying it to their chart in our registry. It is their stone, on record.
- Personally explained. A short recorded video explains why this stone for this chart, and the traditional way to begin wearing it.
- Built-in follow-up. A check-in reading 60–90 days later is included — the stone brings them back.

Why this beats a normal shop

A plain stone competes on price with every crystal seller online. A chart-matched, certified, registered, personally-prescribed stone with a follow-up reading competes with nobody — because nobody offers it. It justifies a premium price, it drives clients back for the follow-up, and it turns a one-time sale into an ongoing relationship. That is where the real money in this field actually is.

We do not run it as pure order-on-demand. We hold a curated stock of the common chart-relevant stones so most orders ship fast; rare or bespoke stones are sourced to order.

Gemstone pricing

Tier	Example	Price band
Accessible	Silver-set, smaller carat, entry planetary stone	$90 – $250
Signature ★	Mid-grade certified planetary gemstone	$300 – $700
Premium	Fine certified stone (e.g. good-origin sapphire or ruby)	$800 – $2,500+

Jewellery-trade margins run roughly 2× cost at the low end and 4–5× for finished pieces. Our premium is justified by certification, chart-matching and the follow-up service — not by inflating the stone.

Shipping

- Always fully insured, tracked, and signature-required — these are high-value items with certificates.
- In-stock stones: dispatched in 3–5 business days.
- Bespoke or sourced stones: 2–4 weeks, with the timeline shown clearly before purchase.
- Insured courier to the US, UK and Canada; the customs and duty position is shown up front so there are no surprises at the door.

What goes in the box

- The stone, in a proper jewellery box.
- The independent lab certificate (genuine, untreated).
- A "Your Stone & Your Chart" card — why this stone for this chart, in the language of tradition.
- Traditional first-wearing guidance (which day, which finger, per Vedic custom).
- A simple care card.
- A tamper-evident seal.

What NEVER goes in the box

No leaflet, card, or wording that says the stone treats, heals, cures, aligns, fixes, or improves any condition of body or mind. No "scientifically proven." No health promise of any kind. The stone is jewellery and tradition — that is the whole story we tell, and it is a true one.

The claims rulebook

This applies to everyone — astrologers, presenters and support staff — everywhere: the website, the readings, the videos, the ads and the packaging. When unsure, say less.

Gemstones & remedies

✓ We may say	✗ We never say
In Vedic tradition, this stone is associated with Jupiter.	This stone heals / cures / treats / fixes anything.
It's what your chart indicates, in the traditional system.	It helps you recover faster / improves your health / aligns your body.
The stone is genuine and untreated — here is the lab certificate.	It's scientifically proven. (There is no such proof — saying it is itself the violation.)
Traditionally worn on this finger, first put on this day.	Wear it and your money / relationship / illness will improve.

Where the law actually draws the line: UK rules ban claiming a product can treat "any adverse condition of body or mind." Not just "cure" — helps with is already over the line. A crystal seller was ruled against for a generic "healing power" claim with no illness named at all. So the rule is simple: no health claims of any kind, and never the word "scientific." We sell jewellery, tradition and genuine certification — nothing more, and we never need more.

Readings & advertising

✓ We may say	✗ We never say
A 60-minute reading with a qualified astrologer. Recording included.	Any promised outcome — "get your ex back", "you'll get the job", "guaranteed".
Talk about astrology in general — "your rising sign is how people first see you".	Tell the viewer their own sign, or imply we know their health, money or beliefs.
Gentle words — clarity, guidance, understanding, direction.	Cure, heal, treat, or any medical / lottery / gambling-luck claim.
Real credentials, real reviews (with permission), real prices.	Fake discounts, fake countdowns, fake scarcity, or a "free" reading that bills them.

The guard rails

Always

- Show the exact price before anyone pays.
- Put a cancel link in every receipt; send a reminder before every charge; allow one-click cancel.
- Get a spoken "yes" on the recording before recording any call. If they say no, stop and continue unrecorded.
- Refund quickly and politely when asked.
- Keep card complaints under 4 in every 1,000 sales.

Never

- Promise a result of any kind.
- Fake a discount, a countdown, a shortage or a review.
- Offer a "free" reading that quietly turns into a bill.
- Push payment plans on someone in distress. If a client describes a crisis, we point them to real help — we do not sell them a reading.
- Sell a stone as medicine.

The tools — and exactly what each one does

Tool	Job	What it actually does for us
Calendly / Acuity	Booking	Lets a client pick a time, pay on the spot, and get the correct local time automatically. Sends reminders so they show up.
Zoom (paid)	The reading	Runs the video call and records it, so we can send the recording afterwards.
Stripe	Take payments	Charges the client's card and handles the monthly plans. Our main money-in tool.
Backup processor	Safety net	A second card company (CorePay/PayKings type) ready to switch to if Stripe ever freezes us — so the business never stops.
PayPal	Second option	A familiar checkout choice some clients prefer.
Brevo	Email	Sends the newsletters, forecasts and reminders. Chosen because it stores data in the EU, which keeps privacy simple.
Shared inbox	Messages	One place where all client emails, chats and WhatsApp land, so support and the astrologer never contradict each other.
Business phone + WhatsApp	Contact	A proper number for calls and texts, and WhatsApp for UK and international clients who live on it.
Ethoca (free)	Stop complaints	Shows our name and logo in the client's banking app so they recognise the charge and don't complain to their bank.
Lab certification	Gemstones	An independent lab proves each stone is genuine and untreated — the trust behind the Prescribed Stone.

The two safety habits, explained. Separate card: the ad accounts use one bank card used for nothing else — because Google and Facebook link accounts by their card, so if one gets banned, others on the same card can be banned too. A dedicated card fences that off. Second admin: a second trusted person holds admin access to the ad accounts, so if the main login is ever locked, the business doesn't lose the accounts and can still appeal.

What the business needs in place

Credentials & readiness

- Certification on file for the astrology / fortune-telling services offered in the UK. UK advertising rules require us to hold the evidence behind any claim — including a "qualified astrologer" claim — before it goes live on the site or in an ad.
- An honest read on how many sessions can be delivered per week without dropping quality — every plan and cap depends on this number.
- A warm list of past clients to invite first — our first sales, at no cost.
- Agreement, in writing, that the business may add more astrologers over time.

The money picture

- To be legally live: roughly $150–$550, one time.
- Monthly running cost: about $2,900 on a lean start, up to about $8,800 at full speed.
- Working capital to the Day-90 checkpoint: roughly $9,000 (lean) to $27,000 (fast).
- Always keep 4–6 weeks of income in reserve, in case a processor holds funds.
- The Founders' Circle (~$150,000) then funds the gemstone line and the second astrologer.
